

TWO WEEK LIVING WISDOM SCHOOLS

This unique two week course teaches basic competency in Pastoral Therapy and some advanced psychological skills to anyone with a desire to improve their own life, heal the lives of their family/ friends, and acquire helping/counselling skills, for the wider community. It has been described affectionately as a “check-up from the neck-up” and “uncommonly common sense”. It has been widely attended by thousands of students from all walks of life. As an Australian Ambassador, I will be your primary tutor, along with other tutors as necessary. My formal training was with AIFC in Family Counselling. I have a great interest in the ongoing equipping of people—both inside and outside the Church, for the profound and difficult challenges that life can bring.

Although the two week course is too brief for RTO recognition, it does qualify as a “pre-entry” for tertiary study, as well as being an excellent finishing course for those graduating elsewhere. Access to the Living Wisdom network of support, study notes and ongoing supervision is also available. A curious characteristic of this Course is that those with little formal education and those with many years’ University education are equally enthusiastic about it. A difficult phenomena to explain, but together with many stories of how students are miraculously enabled to attend, repeatedly confirms that this Course is divinely guided. Students frequently report this is one of the most profound learning experiences they have ever had.

Overview:

A copy of the curriculum can be downloaded from www.livingwisdom.com.au but broadly speaking, students attending for the first time come in at Level One. This introduces them to the basic Living Wisdom methodology, emotional health in context of counselling, pastoral care skills, psychological awareness, marriage/ relational/ sexual issues, toxic religious insights and Christianity. Because the concentrated nature of the material students are not expected to fully process the information in the two weeks available, but have a powerful “tool box” to take away and begin using immediately.

Two week course:

Lectures run 9am – 3pm Monday to Friday, for full two weeks, with about an hour for lunch (bring your own lunch, tea/coffee and snack supplied). Assignments are given each day which students complete at home. Each class begins with a brief time of sharing and monitoring progress, and students are expected to set their own pace in regard to selected reading. On the final Friday we have a shared lunch and social time together as a finale to the Course.

Fees:

The full fee for the 2-week course is $920.00 (GST Inclusive). This covers Tuition, Manual, Daily Insight Book, Journal and one professional Counselling session. A $100 non-refundable deposit will secure a place in any School, with the remaining fees due the first day of the Course (unless otherwise negotiated). Application form can be downloaded from www.livingwisdom.com.au
